👤 Profile

I consider myself a flexible and goal-oriented person who understands that it is important to be adaptable. Good cooperation skills with colleagues are required to carry out work tasks effectively and sustainably. In addition, I strongly resist stress and find it easy to prioritize my work. This has developed from my time as an only employee at Niotek IT AB.

My short term goal is to gain an entry into the IT development industry. By having a good foundation of work experience I can continue working toward my long term goal. Which is to contribute to large projects and further increase my knowledge about full-stack development.
